

Young Learners 1

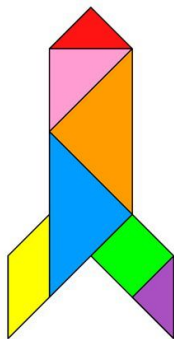

Can liquids flow up?

Students witnessed capillary action. This is easy to recreate at home. All you need is paper towels, water, and cups.

Students explored the properties of liquids with a variety of experiments. Ask your child about density, viscosity, and the abilities of liquids to mix.

Students did calisthenics for their brains by exploring tangrams.

Great article about tangrams and math.

<http://www.parentingscience.com/tangrams-for-kids.html>