English Language Arts Mission Statement:
The Glen Ridge Language Arts Program establishes a foundation for lifelong learning and effective communication. Through a sequential and challenging curriculum, our students will become proficient readers, effective writers, active listeners and articulate speakers. Students learn to respect various points of view while displaying creative, collaborative, and critical thinking skills. The Language Arts Program enables our students to participate effectively in a technological, complex and ever changing world.

Course Description: English 11 Honors is a rigorous course designed to develop students’ reading and writing skills in preparation for college level work. The course recognizes that students have gained a growing awareness of the world, and that they should be prepared to discuss complex topics that arise in literature and literary non-fiction. Students will study anchor texts from classic and modern literature, which will serve to illustrate themes relevant to contemporary readers. In addition, students will read relevant non-fiction in order to comprehend a variety of perspectives on complex modern issues, then produce their own responses to those topics.

RI.11-12.6. Determine an author’s point of view or purpose in a text in which the rhetoric is particularly effective, analyzing how style and content contribute to the power, persuasiveness or beauty of the text.

RI.11-12.10. By the end of grade 11, read and comprehend literary nonfiction at grade level text-complexity or above with scaffolding as needed.

W.11-12.1. Write arguments to support claims in an analysis of substantive topics or texts, using valid reasoning and relevant and sufficient evidence.

W.11-12.4. Produce clear and coherent writing in which the development, organization, and style are appropriate to task, purpose, and audience. (Grade-specific expectations for writing types are defined in standards 1–3 above.)

W.11-12.5. Develop and strengthen writing as needed by planning, revising, editing, rewriting, trying a new approach, or consulting a style manual (such as MLA or APA Style), focusing on addressing what is most significant for a specific purpose and audience.

W.11-12.6. Use technology, including the Internet, to produce, share, and update individual or shared writing products in response to ongoing feedback, including new arguments or information.

W.11-12.9. Draw evidence from literary or informational texts to support analysis, reflection, and research.

W.11-12.10. Write routinely over extended time frames (time for research, reflection, and revision) and shorter time frames (a single sitting or a day or two) for a range of tasks, purposes.

SL.11-12.1. Initiate and participate effectively in a range of collaborative discussions (one-on-one, in groups, and teacher-led) with peers on grades 11–12 topics, texts, and issues, building on others’ ideas and expressing their own clearly and persuasively.

SL.11-12.3. Evaluate a speaker’s point of view, reasoning, and use of evidence and rhetoric, assessing the stance, premises, links among ideas, word choice, points of emphasis, and tone used.

SL.11-12.4. Present information, findings and supporting evidence clearly, concisely, and logically. The content, organization, development, and style are appropriate to task, purpose, and audience.

L.11-12.1. Demonstrate command of the conventions of standard English grammar and usage when writing or speaking.

L.11-12.2. Demonstrate command of the conventions of standard English capitalization, punctuation, and spelling when writing.

L.11-12.5. Demonstrate understanding of figurative language, word relationships, and nuances in word meanings.

Essential Questions

- What does it mean to be an educated person? What components are required for education to exist?
- To what extent does a person learn from their environment compared to their education?
- What role do parents and family play in a person’s education?
- How does the use of first person affect the audience’s understanding of character and of truth?

Student Learning Objectives

- Identify and describe what specific textual details reveal about a character, that character’s perspective, and that character’s motives.
- Explain how a dynamic character’s growth or decline reveals the author’s message to the audience.
- Identify and describe specific textual details that convey or reveal a setting and the impact of setting on character.
- Explain the function of a significant event or related set of significant events.

Activities

- Develop and draw character sketches of how the creature and Tara see themselves and how others see them.
- Map character development for dynamic characters in each text.
- Develop a list of criteria for an educated person. What does it mean to be educated?
- Apply ideas from the Enlightenment to the themes of nature and nurture in Frankenstein and Educated.
- Review writing criteria for a literary analysis essay in a writing workshop.
- Develop an arguable claim about literature, then support that claim in a convincing, well-supported essay.
- Demonstrate control over the elements of composition to communicate clearly.

Resources/Materials

Frankenstein by Mary Shelley; Educated by Tara Westover

Interdisciplinary Connections

- Reading and writing skills apply to all subject areas.
- Writing skills, including the ability to state a claim, research, and support a position, apply to all subject areas.
- Discussion of literature enables students to apply understanding of psychological, economic, historical, and cultural contexts to character growth and development.
- Discussion of current issues as they relate to the reading material.
- The use of MLA format is common in multiple disciplines and provides students preparation for college level work.

21st Century Life and Careers

- 9.2 Career Awareness, Exploration, and Preparation
  - This standard outlines the importance of being knowledgeable about one's interests and talents, and being well informed about postsecondary and career options, career planning, and career requirements.
- 9.3 Career and Technical Education
  - This standard outlines what students should know and be able to do upon completion of a CTE Program of Study

Technology Standards

- 8.1 Educational Technology All students will use digital tools to access, manage, evaluate, and synthesize information in order to solve problems individually and collaborate and create and communicate knowledge.
- 8.2 Technology Education, Engineering, Design and Computational Thinking - Programming All students will develop an understanding of the nature and impact of technology, engineering, technological design, computational thinking and the designed world as they relate to the individual, global society, and the environment.

Diversity/Inclusion

We discuss characters from different backgrounds whose environment, economic opportunities, family obligations, and conflicts drive their decisions. Both novels involve central characters who are outcasts from mainstream society. We will discuss the extent to which their position outside of society affects the outcome of their stories.

Unit 4: Classical tragedy

Time Allotted (days of instruction): 25

New Jersey Student Learning Standards (NJSLS)

RL.11-12.1. Cite strong and thorough textual evidence and make relevant connections to support analysis of what the text says explicitly as well as inferences drawn from the text, including determining where the text leaves matters uncertain.

RL.11-12.2. Determine two or more themes or central ideas of a text and analyze their development over the course of the text, including how they interact and build on one another to produce a complex account; provide an objective summary of the text.

RL.11-12.3. Analyze the impact of the author’s choices regarding how to develop and relate elements of a story or drama (e.g., where a story is set, how the action is ordered, how the characters are introduced and developed).

RL.11-12.4. Determine the meaning of words and phrases as they are used in the text, including figurative and connotative meanings; analyze the impact of specific word choices on meaning and tone, including words with multiple meanings or language that is particularly fresh, engaging, or beautiful. (e.g., Shakespeare as well as other authors.)

RL.11-12.5. Analyze how an author’s choices concerning how to structure specific parts of a text (e.g., the choice of where to begin or end a story, the choice to provide a comedic or tragic resolution) contribute to its overall structure and meaning as well as its aesthetic impact.

RL.11-12.7. Analyze multiple interpretations of a story, drama, or poem (e.g., recorded or live production of a play or recorded novel or poetry), evaluating how each version interprets the source text. (e.g., Shakespeare and other authors.)

RL.11-12.10. By the end of grade 11, read and comprehend literature, including stories, dramas, and poems at grade level text-complexity or above with scaffolding as needed.

W.11-12.1. Write arguments to support claims in an analysis of substantive topics or texts, using valid reasoning and relevant and sufficient evidence.

W.11-12.4. Produce clear and coherent writing in which the development, organization, and style are appropriate to task, purpose, and audience.

W.11-12.9. Draw evidence from literary or informational texts to support analysis, reflection, and research.

SL.11-12.1. Initiate and participate effectively in a range of collaborative discussions (one-on-one, in groups, and teacher-led) with peers on grades 11–12 topics, texts, and issues, building on others’ ideas and expressing their own clearly and persuasively.

SL.11-12.2. Integrate multiple sources of information presented in diverse media or formats (e.g., visually, quantitatively, qualitatively, orally) evaluating the credibility and accuracy of each source.

SL.11-12.3. Evaluate a speaker’s point of view, reasoning, and use of evidence and rhetoric, assessing the stance, premises, links among ideas, word choice, points of emphasis, and tone used.

SL.11-12.4. Present information, findings and supporting evidence clearly, concisely, and logically. The content, organization, development, and style are appropriate to task, purpose, and audience.

SL.11-12.5. Make strategic use of digital media (e.g., textual, graphical, audio, visual, and interactive elements) in presentations to enhance understanding of findings, reasoning, and evidence and to add interest.

SL.11-12.6. Adapt speech to a variety of contexts and tasks, demonstrating a command of formal English when indicated or appropriate.

L.11-12.3. Apply knowledge of language to understand how language functions in different contexts, to make effective choices for meaning or style, and to comprehend more fully when reading or listening.

Vary syntax for effect, apply an understanding of syntax to the study of complex texts.

English 11 Honors

Unit 5: Dystopia and social criticism

Time Allotted (days of instruction): 35

New Jersey Student Learning Standards (NJSLS)

RL.11-12.1. Cite strong and thorough textual evidence and make relevant connections to support analysis of what the text says explicitly as well as inferences drawn from the text, including determining where the text leaves matters uncertain.

RL.11-12.2. Determine two or more themes or central ideas of a text and analyze their development over the course of the text, including how they interact and build on one another to produce a complex account; provide an objective summary of the text.

RL.11-12.3. Analyze the impact of the author’s choices regarding how to develop and relate elements of a story or drama (e.g., where a story is set, how the action is ordered, how the characters are introduced and developed).
RL.11-12.6. Analyze a case in which grasping a point of view requires distinguishing what is directly stated in a text from what is really meant (e.g., satire, sarcasm, irony, or understatement).

RL.11-12.9. Demonstrate knowledge of and reflect on (e.g. practical knowledge, historical/cultural context, and background knowledge) eighteenth-, nineteenth- and early twentieth-century foundational works of literature, including how two or more texts from the same period treat similar themes or topics.

RL.11-12.10. By the end of grade 11, read and comprehend literature, including stories, dramas, and poems at grade level text-complexity or above with scaffolding as needed.

RI.11-12.1. Accurately cite strong and thorough textual evidence, (e.g., via discussion, written response, etc.), to support analysis of what the text says explicitly as well as inferentially, including determining where the text leaves matters uncertain.

RI.11-12.2. Determine two or more central ideas of a text, and analyze their development and how they interact to provide a complex analysis; provide an objective summary of the text.

RI.11-12.3. Analyze a complex set of ideas or sequence of events and explain how specific individuals, ideas, or events interact and develop over the course of the text.

RI.11-12.6. Determine an author’s point of view or purpose in a text in which the rhetoric is particularly effective, analyzing how style and content contribute to the power, persuasiveness or beauty of the text.

RI.11-12.10. By the end of grade 11, read and comprehend literary nonfiction at grade level text-complexity or above with scaffolding as needed.

W.11-12.2. Write informative/explanatory texts to examine and convey complex ideas, concepts, and information clearly and accurately through the effective selection, organization, and analysis of content.

W.11-12.8. Gather relevant information from multiple authoritative print and digital sources, using advanced searches effectively; assess the strengths and limitations of each source in terms of the task, purpose, and audience; integrate information into the text selectively to maintain the flow of ideas, avoiding plagiarism and overreliance on any one source and following a standard format for citation. (MLA or APA Style Manuals).

W.11-12.9. Draw evidence from literary or informational texts to support analysis, reflection, and research.

SL.11-12.1. Initiate and participate effectively in a range of collaborative discussions (one-on-one, in groups, and teacher-led) with peers on grades 11–12 topics, texts, and issues, building on others’ ideas and expressing their own clearly and persuasively.

SL.11-12.3. Evaluate a speaker’s point of view, reasoning, and use of evidence and rhetoric, assessing the stance, premises, links among ideas, word choice, points of emphasis, and tone used.

SL.11-12.4 Present information, findings and supporting evidence clearly, concisely, and logically. The content, organization, development, and style are appropriate to task, purpose, and audience.

L.11-12.1. Demonstrate command of the conventions of standard English grammar and usage when writing or speaking.

L.11-12.2. Demonstrate command of the conventions of standard English capitalization, punctuation, and spelling when writing.

L.11-12.3. Apply knowledge of language to understand how language functions in different contexts, to make effective choices for meaning or style, and to comprehend more fully when reading or listening.

L.11-12.5. Demonstrate understanding of figurative language, word relationships, and nuances in word meanings.
● Which rhetorical strategies make an effective editorial argument?
● How does satire function to provide social criticism?
● To what extent should a government impact the personal lives of individuals?
● Can and should privacy still exist in the modern age?

● Appreciate the purpose of editorials in our cultural discourse.
● Utilize rhetorical strategies necessary to make an editorial argument.
● Develop an argument on a critical issue in our society today.
● Support an argument using research from a variety of sources.
● Identify and utilize quality sources to support an argument.
● Understand the use of satire to identify an author’s criticism of society.

● Study the opinions for and against the use of surveillance and tracking of personal information. What are the different forms of surveillance that are used in society today? Understand the arguments on both sides for why surveillance has increased over the last few decades.
● Annotate and discuss model editorial responses to current issues in our society. Examine the effective use of rhetoric and evidence to support a claim.
● Prepare an assignment position for or against surveillance. With a partner, research the position and present the argument in class.
● Watch the HBO documentary series “VICE” about the use of government surveillance and state control in North Korea.
● Study the historical context of the Cold War and its impact on literary themes in 20th century fiction.
● Read and examine the themes of government control, privacy, and liberty in the novel 1984 by George Orwell. Determine Orwell’s central themes as well as his warnings about the future of society.
● Read and examine the themes of isolation, privacy, and liberty in The Handmaid’s Tale by Margaret Atwood.

Resources/Materials
1984 by George Orwell; The Handmaid’s Tale by Margaret Atwood; example editorials from The New York Times
